

John House Award At Testimony Concluded Locomotive and Truck Several Matters Get Esopus Confirmed In Tax Assessment of Crash At Summitville Attention of Court By Judge Loughran Olive Reservoir Land Three Men are Injured At Session on Friday

Commissioners Awarded at $2,000 in Taxing Lands For New Route 9-W Confirmed by Court—Opposed on Four Grounds.

Supreme Court Judge John T. Loughran has granted the motion made by County Attorney Robert G. Groves for confirmation of the John House award which was made by the Condemnation Commission which heard the matter. The award was for $3,000 for lands taken at Esopus for construction of the new route 9-W highway. Commissioners of Appraisal were Judge Stephan, Senator Arthur Wicks and Coroner George Sutter.

At the November special term of Supreme court Mr. Groves moved for confirmation of the report of the commission. At that time the confirmation was opposed by Senator Walton who appeared for Mr. House. Judge Loughran's memorandum in the matter follows:

"Confirmation of the report is opposed upon four grounds stated as follows:

1. That the amount of the award is insufficient and inadequate.
2. That the amount of the award is against the evidence, and against the facts as shown by the testimony in the case.
3. That the report does not state the rule adopted by the commissioners in making the award, nor the elements considered by them in arriving at their conclusion.
4. That the report does not take separately the value of the fee taken, and the amount awarded for severance or consequential damages.

(1) The award is not so obviously inadequate or unjust to defendant as to warrant its rejection upon that ground. (Adirondack Power and Light Corp. v. Evans, 226 App. Div. 490, 493.)

(2) The commissioners were not limited to the evidence produced by the parties. Assuming the award to be conservative, it may not be reviewed for that reason (Adirondack Power & Light Corp. v. Evans, supra, pp. 492-493.)

(3) The practice of requiring commissioners to state the principle upon which the award was made, and the elements of damage awarded, is justified only in exceptional cases (Waterford Electric Light Co. v. Reed, 103 App. Div. 193). This is not such a case. There was no rule to be followed other than the orthodox measure of damage (matter of City of New York, 225 N. Y. 25, 29). The witnesses were examined in accordance with that criterion. No other was suggested at the hearing. The record fortifies the presumption that the commissioners adopted the correct standard.

(4) The report is not defective because it fails to state separately the sum awarded for the land taken, and that awarded for damages to the remaining property. (Highway Law, 152; Matter of Thompson, 45 Hun, 561; aff'd, 121 N. Y. 277.)

No other course the report must be confirmed. (Highway Law, 152). Motion granted."

Mutilated Body Of Boy Found In Bay

San Diego, Calif., July 25 (AP).—The entire San Diego police department today searched for some clue that might lead to the slayer of Dalbert Aposhian, 7, whose mutilated body was found in San Diego Bay.

Mothers, worried concerning the safety of their children, organized to demand speedy solution of the murder. Telephone calls to city officials from representatives of one group of 100 women asked that the slayer and all of his kind be rounded up immediately.

Sailors crossing the bay yesterday found the body of the boy, missing a week from home.

Dr. F. E. Toomey, county surgeon, said the boy's death was from "multiple mutilating operations." He said the body had been in the bay about four days.

Chief of detectives Harry Kelly assigned all his men to search isolated dwellings, shacks and lots along the water front and in other parts of the city. Many men, listed in police records as suspicious characters, were brought to the police station but none was held.

Testimony Ended In 1929 and 1930 Town of Olive Certiorari Proceedings To Review New York City Reservoir Tax Assessments.

Testimony in the 1929 and 1930 town of Olive certiorari proceedings instituted by the City of New York to review the city's assessments in that town for those years has been concluded. The matter concerns the assessment of the Ashokan reservoir property. Similar action has been taken in the other towns wherein city property lies.

Saturday the hearings which have extended over many months were concluded before Referee Mambert in the 1929 proceeding and Monday before Referee Norton. Briefs and findings are to be submitted by October first in both cases. This will mean a vast amount of work on the part of counsel in the case since there are over 3,000 pages of testimony in each of the cases. Robert G. Groves and Harry H. Fleming appear for the town and the assessors and F. T. Fitzgeralds, assistant corporation counsel for Corporation Counsel Hillie appeared for the city of New York.

The assessors of the town of Olive, Martin J. Every, James K. DuBois and Elijah Shurtler, assessed the city's property in the town at $5,000,000. This the city of New York protested as too much and instituted proceedings to review the assessment. Testimony was introduced by the town by expert witnesses including James O. Winston, builder of the water works, showing an appraisal of $20,000,000 in 1929 and about $15,000,000 in 1930.

The town's contention was that everything north of the screen chamber was assessable. At this point the standard Catskill aqueduct commences. The contention is that all other parts of the plant above this line is part of the control works and should be assessed as a part of the dam. The law excludes the aqueduct from assessment.

The city of New York set forth the contention that up to the 530 foot elevation the works were necessary for flow into the aqueduct and that that portion of the dam and its appurtenances thus was a part of the aqueduct and that only from the 530 foot elevation to the 590 foot elevation was the plant constructed for storage purposes and therefore only that portion of the works between the 530 and 590 foot elevation could be assessed.

The town contends that the gate houses, aerator, discharge channels, special aqueduct and pressure aqueduct above the standard aqueduct should be assessed. This the city denied. The city also contended that a portion of the construction was made necessary for highway purposes and that the dams and dykes were constructed with the view of their use for highway purposes. The dams and dykes the city contended had been built of an extreme width to care for these highways and that everything under the highways in a horizontal section was for the purposes of highway construction and that this section of the dams and dykes therefore could not be assessed as part of the plant since they were built for highway purposes.

It was shown by respondent's witnesses that the Wachusett dam near Boston was practically identical in construction and was designed by the same engineer as the Ashokan dam, Engineer F. P. Sterns, and that the Wachusett dam contemplated no highway over it and had none but that it was built to the same width as the Ashokan dam in proportion to its height.

After submission of briefs and findings the matter will go to the referee for consideration and recommendation to the court.

Unpaid Tax Lists Being Prepared

Clerks in the city treasurer's office are preparing for publication in the newspapers a list of unpaid taxes. The names of those owing general taxes for 1933 will be advertised also those owing school taxes for 1932-33. Records show that some who have paid their 1933 general taxes still owe 1932-33 school taxes. The names of these property holders will be published also.

LEHMAN PLEDGES STATE SUPPORT FOR ROOSEVELT

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP).—Governor Herbert H. Lehman today pledged "the fullest support of the people of the state of New York" to President Roosevelt's recovery program.

Referring to the president's appeal last night for cooperation, Mr. Lehman said the appeal was "so clear and convincing that it inevitably will secure wholehearted support for his plan from the people of the nation."

Engineer and Fireman Suffer From Shock, Bruises and Lacerations—Truck Driver Badly Injured—None of the 15 Passengers Hurt.

The locomotive drawing Ontario & Western Train 404, running from High Falls to Summitville, was derailed and a truck belonging to the D. B. Adams store in Summitville was smashed when the two came together just north of the Summitville station at 2 o'clock standard time Monday afternoon.

Seth Jackson of Middletown, engineer of the train, and his fireman, C. C. Scales, also of Middletown, were taken at once to the Middletown Hospital, suffering from shock, bruises and lacerations. Ira TerBush, driver of the Adams truck, was taken to the Veterans' Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, badly injured, with a possible fracture of the skull, crushed hand and other injuries.

The accident happened at the crossing near the former Schindler garage, where the old highway crosses the track and joins the present state road. It is said that apparently the engineer had applied some air to the brakes, preparatory to slowing down for the Summitville depot, where the train makes connection with the main line and following the collision the train, consisting of a mail car, milk car and two coaches, came to an easy stop, none of the 15 passengers being injured. The road crossing is on a slant at the point of the accident and it is believed that the truck and the locomotive met practically head-on, the engine of the truck and being thrown completely around, so that after the accident it lay on its left side heading toward Kingston.

The entire body of the tender was torn off and thrown to one side. Had the locomotive fallen on its right side Engineer Jackson would have been crushed to death. He was pulled out from the cab and appeared to be not seriously injured, although he may have been scalded by the escaping steam. Scales, the fireman, had climbed on to the tank of the tender, previous to the collision, as the engine was to take on water at Summitville. He was thrown off and was found badly jarred up sitting on a pile of ties following the accident.

Jackson and Scales were an extra engine crew that came on Monday to finish out the month, the regular engineer and fireman, Benjamin St. John and William Boos of Kingston, having finished their mileage for the month Saturday night.

Philip S. Titus of 312 Washington avenue, Kingston, is the conductor on the train, which runs daily from High Falls to Summitville.

U. S. Nabs Gangsters For Hamm Kidnaping

Milwaukee, Wis., July 25 (AP).—The Federal government was striking at the kidnap racket today, aiming at Roger Touhy, Chicago gang chieftain, and three of his associates as the alleged abductors of William Hamm, Jr., wealthy St. Paul brewer.

Touhy and his three lieutenants, were closely guarded in the county jail here while the government prepared to ask their removal to St. Paul, where they face charges of kidnaping Hamm. Hamm was seized near the Theodore Hamm Brewery of which he is president, on June 15, and held nearly four days until payment of $100,000 ransom freed him.

The government planned to take Touhy and his men before U. S. Commissioner Floyd E. Jenkins today. Federal authorities said they believed the gangsters would resist removal. In that event, a hearing would be held before Federal Judge F. A. Geiger.

The warrants naming Touhy and his men, Willie Sharkey, Eddie McFadden and "Gloomy Gus" Schaeffer, were drawn under the new anti-kidnaping law. They charge interstate transportation of Hamm, specifically that he was taken from St. Paul "to the vicinity of Beloit and Janesville," Wis.

PREDICT MCGOWAN AS REVENUE COLLECTOR

Batavia, N. Y., July 25 (AP).—Elbert F. Klebs, chairman of the Democratic organization of Genesee county, said today Postmaster General James A. Farley told him over the telephone last night that George T. McGowan of Buffalo would be named Collector of Internal Revenue for this district.

The internal revenue collectorship is the prize patronage plum to be handed out in western New York. Almost every county had its candidates. Klebs had been trying to land the post for Joseph M. Ryan, prominent Genesee Democrat.

McGowan, a Buffalo City Councilman, was the choice of the powerful Erie county Democratic organization for the post.

New 9-W Routing at Saugerties Planned As Works Project

Construction of a bridge and approaches on Route 9-W to eliminate the six right-angle turns on the West Shore route through Saugerties will be started soon according to Washington information as one of 11 highway improvement projects on the New York state list approved by the Public Works Administration at Washington.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes announced yesterday the Cabinet Advisory Board had approved plans for 11 road jobs in this state. Besides the Saugerties-Kingston project which is one of the largest on the program, there is provision for a 5-mile stretch of concrete highway between Saratoga Springs and Glens Falls.

New York and Utah will be the first states to begin actual work on public road schedules with money obtained from the Public Works Administration. Six projects have been approved for Utah.

Work will begin on the 17 projects in the two states as soon as contracts are awarded at the expiration of the time required by law for advertising. The contracts will stipulate that labor be limited to 30 hours a week, and minimum wages will be fixed by the respective highway departments.

The Saugerties bridge project will shorten the route between Albany and Kingston and also provide a direct extension of the three-lane concrete highway which now ends at the southern limit of Saugerties. Eventually the road from Saugerties to Catskill will be widened to link with the new West Coxsack-Catskill road.

The Division Office of the Highway Department at Poughkeepsie when asked today about the Saugerties project had heard nothing about the matter, which evidently refers to the plan for the construction of a viaduct across the gully from the south edge of Saugerties village to again rejoin the old route at the upper end of the village near Seaman Park. This plan was discussed by state officials some time ago as a means of avoiding congestion in the village but was rejected for the time as too expensive a proposition.

At the time it was deemed wiser at this time to improve the existing route through the village by the construction of a new bridge across the creek near the power dam and permit the viaduct route to wait for more favorable times.

Bids for the replacement of the old iron bridge across the Esopus creek were solicited but eventually rejected. The highway department contemplates re-advertising for bids again within a short time for replacement of this bridge on a site which will eliminate the present dangerous condition which now exists at the bridge entrances.

Law Called off In Hunt For Oil Man

Oklahoma City, July 25 (AP).—The investigation of the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, oil millionaire, was at a standstill today as the family called off the forces of the law in an effort to encourage the abductors to communicate their price for Urschel's safe release.

R. H. Colvin, chief of the United States bureau of investigation here, ordered a 24-hour recess in the hunt, commenting:

"Our only interest at this time is the safe return of Mr. Urschel." This action was taken at the earnest request of Mrs. Berenice Slick Urschel, distraught at lack of word from the kidnapers.

Through the press, she promised the captors, she was not interested in their prosecution but "only in the safe return of my husband."

Before the investigation was halted, Deputy Sheriff Bill Eads and two other deputies, armed to the teeth, stepped away on a secret errand connected with the kidnaping.

Meanwhile, the family relied on Mr. and Mrs. Urschel for the huge oil fortune left by Tom B. Slick, her husband, to conduct negotiations with the kidnapers.

Roosevelt Appeals To Nation For Unified Action To Spur Recovery

Greatest Spontaneous Outburst Greeted President's Utterances—Declares Recovery Bill Gives Us The Means To Conquer Unemployment—Big and Little Employers To Go Through With Plan.

Washington, July 25 (AP).—A flood of telegraphed pledges, hundreds upon hundreds of them, answered today President Roosevelt's appeal to the nation for immediate enrollment of all employers under the blanket agreement to raise wages and create new jobs.

Hardly had he finished last night the plain-worded, direct call for patriotic and unquestioning acceptance of the voluntary and individual employer-pledges to raise pay and shorten hours before the answers began to come in. Within an hour 300 promises had come, a few more minutes and the number doubled and still there appeared no end to the flow.

The President and Hugh S. Johnson, the man who is running the industrial recovery unit, were reported profoundly gratified, a White House secretary said it was the greatest spontaneous outburst that had greeted any of the President's utterances.

His appeal was terse: "We are not going through another winter like the last. ... It is time for courageous action, and the recovery bill gives us the means to conquer unemployment. ... The proposition is simply this: 'If all employers will act together to shorten hours and raise wages we can put people back to work. No employer will suffer, because the relative level of some amount will advance by the same amount for all. But if any considerable group should lag or shirk, the great opportunity will pass us by and we will go into another desperate winter. This must not happen.'"

"I ask that even before the dates set in the agreements which we have sent out, the employers of the country who have not already done so—the big fellows and the little fellows—shall at once write or telegraph to me personally at the White House, expressing their intention of going through with the plan."

They did, big fellows and little. One of the big ones was Harvey S. Firestone, who pledged to put the program into effect immediately.

Many Problems Before Committee While the mass movement was on, heating the gun on the campaign which sets under way officially after tomorrow and seeks to have six million men re-employed by Labor Day, with increased wages for those who now have jobs, Johnson and a corps of lieutenants worked away at a collection of difficult problems—continued and new hearings on general codes of fair competition for oil, lumber, wool weaving and rayon weaving industries; complaints of widespread discrimination by industries against union sympathizers; puzzling requests for interpretations of the blanket re-employment agreement.

Price-fixing, a principal issue in the divided petroleum industry, was on the boards for thorough discussion in today's resumption of the oil hearing.

At the lumber hearing the same price control idea was still an aggravating point, but Dudley Cates, assistant to Johnson, hoped to close the public session today. The rayon weaving industry brought in a code practically identical with that for cotton, now in force, proposing minimum wages of $12 and $13 in south and north, and a 40-hour week.

Discussion continued on the wool code, which proposes minimums on dollar higher, against a labor demand for $18 weekly and 30 hours.

The administration's labor advisory committee sought Johnson's consent to issuing a public warning to employers who discriminate against and discharge workers of union tendencies.

To deal with demands for clarification of the "blanket code," a special committee headed by General Thomas H. Hammond, new director of the re-employment campaign, was set up today. Questions should be directed to him, and will be answered personally.

Agreement Fair to All. The president's address served clear warning that selfish interest is not going to be let stand in the way of the re-employment drive, and that he is satisfied the blanket agreement is fair to all.

"There are, of course, men, a few of them, who might thwart this great common purpose by seeking selfish advantage," he said. "There are adequate penalties in the law, but I am now asking the cooperation that comes from opinion and from conscience. These are the only instruments we shall use in this great summer offensive against unemployment."

"But we shall use them to the limit to protect the willing from the laggard and to make the plan succeed."

With this statement he joined the following: "You can look on every employer who adopts the plan as one who is doing his part, and those employers deserve well of everyone who works the Kingston Hospital."

Reach for a Lucky

—for always Luckies Please!

Now my fiance and I both smoke Luckies

It wasn't always so. In the beginning I tried his brand, and I got him to try mine. Well, he liked mine... but not for the same reason that I say "Luckies Please". He said Luckies taste fine and they're ever so mild. But I'm a woman and I pride myself on my sense of daintiness—for, my cigarette does touch my lips and is a personal, intimate thing with me. Naturally "Toasting" means to me even more than it does to a man, for purity is something that a fastidious woman appreciates highly.

"Y" Camp Programs
Enjoyed by Boys

With a maximum enrollment of 100 boys, the Kingston Y. M. C. A. boys' camp, is now in the third week of the season, the boys enjoying the various activities which the camp program presents. New boys this week are: Robert Morehouse, William Morehouse, Paul Cahill, Theodore Valenti, Paul Giamberucci, Edmund Green, William Van Kleeck, John Adair, Collins Troy and Jack Lurie.

The camp program is popular with the campers because it is to a great extent planned by the boys through their camp council. This week's council is officered by William Byrne, Jr., president, and Andrew Cook, Jr., secretary. Other members of the council are Paul Pekin, Theodore Valenti, Alfred Holliday and George Wicks. A special activity which the council has already planned for this week is the inter-cabin athletic meet consisting of a 40-yard dash, 60-yard dash, three-legged race, sack race, obstacle race, standing broad jump, football throw, basketball throw and shot put. Other council planned activities consist of a mountain hike, a supper hike for the whole camp and a baseball game with Camp Wankonda.

Thursday, July 27, begins the last week of camp, the only period which has not been filled in advance. There is still room for six additional campers in this period to use camp to capacity, and any boys desiring to enter may enroll at the Y. M. C. A.

SHOKAN

Shokan, July 25—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Neale of Poughkeepsie are at their summer home on the north boulevard.

Richard McCough of Brooklyn was numbered among the out of town people who spent the week-end in the village center.

Mrs. Harold Elliott and family attended an evening meeting held at the Atwood Church recently by members of the Salvation Army of Kingston.

Mrs. Margaret Allen and daughter, Julia, of Brooklyn are spending their vacation at the Shokan House on the corner.

Stoutenburgh of West Hurley is drilling a well on Alfred Scott's residence property.

Mails for southern and eastern points now leave the local post office at 8:20 a. m. and 1:35 p. m., while the west bound mails close at 6:30 a. m. and 2:38 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen of Brooklyn are boarding at the George Von-Osten residence on the old state road.

A report of County Treasurer Cook, made on July 24, 1932, of an appraisal of the estate of Burton D. Hoyer of Broadhead placed the net value at $10,550.40. Lillian Hoyer was administratrix of the estate which consisted almost entirely of three claims for properties taken by New York city for reservoir purposes and on which awards had been made the previous February. Mr. Hoyer, who was a son of Darius W. Hoyer, a storekeeper in the old village of Broadhead, died August 15, 1909.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wager, who were married recently, have moved into one of the houses on the hill road in Boiceville, near Grant De-Silva's store. Mr. Wager, a former Shokan boy, for the past year has conducted a garage and repair shop in Mt. Tremper.

William Loos, a member of the local hungalow colony, is planning a number of stories for sports periodicals based on his experiences in fishing for trout and other fish in the reservoir and tributary streams. Mr. Loos has moved his fishing boat from West Hurley to a point along the shore of the east basin nearer the dividing weir.

It is reported that only relief men will be employed on the new county road job in the Tonche Mountain section, the amount of employment given each week depending upon the number of dependents the applicant has. Thus men with large families will stand a good chance of working five days a week if accepted by those in charge of the construction job.

The following out of town people were entertained at the Winchell boarding house on the corner recently: Miss Ethel Kern, Rosedale; L. L. M. M. Rosen and son, New York; N. J.; Mrs. R. R. Rupp, Hudson; N. J.; Miss Ann Placker, Westchester, L. I.

A young man who spent his vacation of two weeks here succeeded in catching only two fish though he tried his luck down at the reservoir almost daily. He did have the comforting experience, however, of seeing one of his fellow anglers pull a 20-inch picker from the big pond last Saturday.

Another of the old reliable mountain springs which have not yet succumbed to the drought is the one on George Whittle's farm, near the Kenosia Lake Club's property, just over the town line in Hurley. Visitors to the spring report that the flow is equal to that of a small brook and the water is so cold that one must drink it like ice water.

On July 24, 1918, the town of Olive service flag, hung across the state road between the residence of Charles Green and Mrs. Herman Bell, was waving in the summer breeze. There were 15 stars on the flag at that time and more were soon to be added. George Hogan, Jr., had left for camp with other recruits from District No. 3, and his brother, Robert, now of Kingston, was already in France where he was serving with a field artillery unit.

Emory Personous, who now resides in Kingston, was confined to a hospital at Camp Dix with a severe attack of rheumatism. Paul James was visiting relatives here before leaving with a New York city contingent for Camp Dix. The rumor was current that members of the National Guard were soon to take over the guarding of the reservoir and that the B. W. S. police would move on to Prattsville to take care of the Gilboa dam. The soldiers, members of an Albany company, were then patrolling the aqueduct from the Lester B. Davis farm at Tongore, south through Atwood.

Michael Allen, genial night rider, discovered a spring in the rear of his residence and is planning to deepen it and lead the water to a lower elevation.

Morris Ross has secured employment on the new county road job in northeastern Olive.

Clarke Is Awarded
Cornell Scholarship

John W. Clarke, valedictorian of the Kingston High School 1933 graduating class, was awarded the Cornell scholarship for the class A schools of Ulster county. Clarke obtained 96 per cent in the competitive examination which was given at the school last June. There were four candidates in all for the scholarship.

O'CONNELLS EXPECT "BREAK" IN DEAL WITH KIDNAPERS

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—The family of kidnaped John J. O'Connell, Jr., was represented as expecting a "break" today in the deal for the youth's return.

Ed O'Connell, Albany county Democratic leader and uncle of the captive National Guardsman, was quoted as saying:

"We look for a break today." Meanwhile Capt. Richard Oliver, commanding New York city detectives working on the case, expressed the opinion that the kidnapers are of the "killer type."

Oliver, who is in a hospital at present suffering from a throat ailment, explained that in their bargaining for the life of 24-year-old O'Connell the abductors have been cold-blooded, slow, deliberate and determined to hold out until their terms are met.

SOUTH RONDOUT.

South Rondout, July 25.—Mrs. Kate Clair and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lund of Brooklyn are spending a few days at the Clair homestead on Second street.

Russell Maurer, Jr., is spending a few weeks with his father on his tug in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Neill and son, Robert, motored from Hoboken, N. J., and spent the week-end with Mrs. Barbara Lawler and son, Charles, of Connelly Heights.

Miss Florence Haines has been spending the past week in New York city.

Miss Elizabeth Clair of Kingston spent the week-end with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. Clair, of First street.

William M. Fallon of New York city is spending a few days at the home of his sisters, the Misses Margaret and Anna Fallon, of Second street.

The Misses Grace and Josephine Herzog of Kingston spent Saturday with Mrs. Joseph Scherer.

Ira Maurer has had a Gibson electric refrigerator installed.

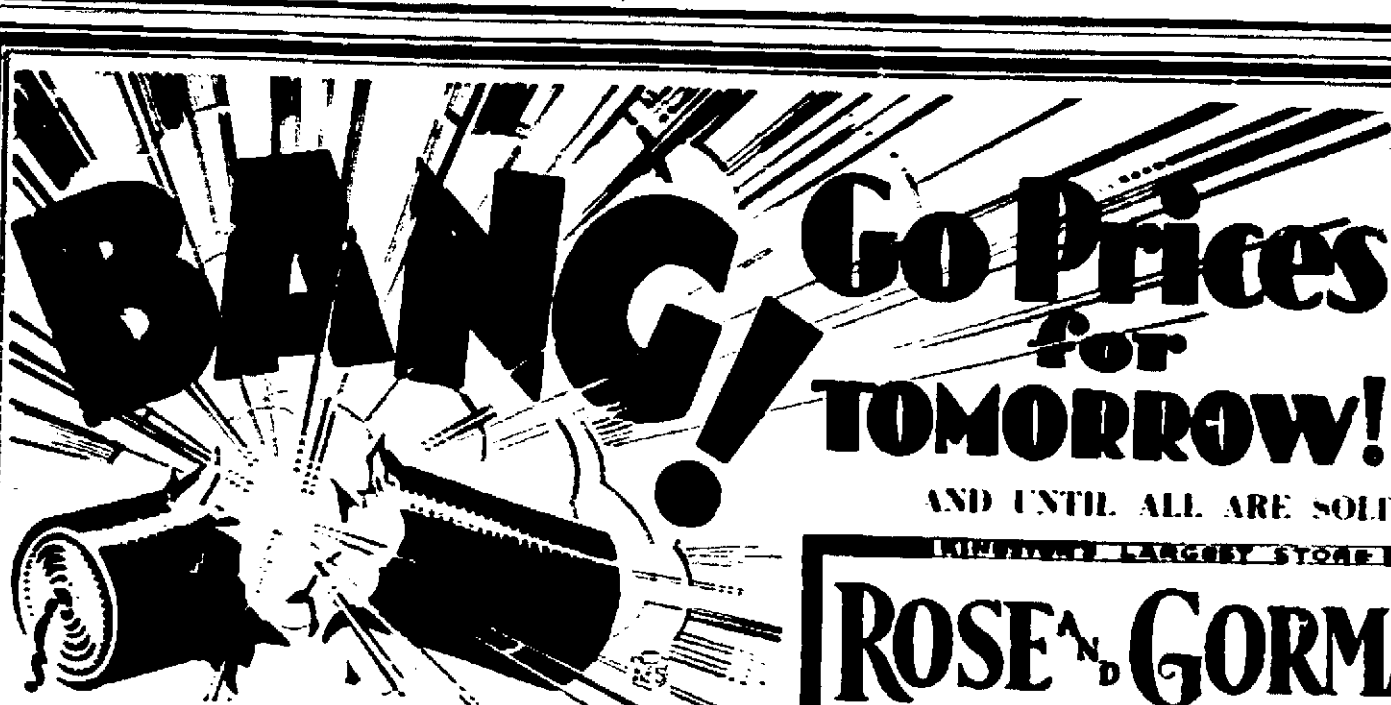

Mrs. William T. Willson, continues very ill at her home on Second street. Mr. Willson is in the Kingston Hospital.

Dead of Injuries

Schenectady, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Emmett Tullock, 45, of Deaneburg, died in a hospital today from injuries caused by an automobile which struck him near his home Sunday night. James P. Donnelly, Jr., of Watervliet, the driver, said Tullock accidentally stepped in front of his car.

Mr. Marion Minstrel.

The Men's Club of Franklin Street, A. M. E. Zion Church will give a minstrel show at the Mt. Marion Reformed Church Thursday night, July 27. On August 2, the show will be given in the lecture room of Franklin Street Church, starting at 8:15 a. m.

Another Game For Kingston Coppers

The Kingston and Newburgh police department baseball teams will meet again, the date of combat scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, August 20, the scene of battle the Kingston Fair Grounds and starting time 4 o'clock. Proceeds of the game will go to the Kingston Patrolmen's Pension Fund. In a recent meeting the Newburgh Cops edged out Chief J. Allan Wood's men by the close score of 8-7. Some 5,000 Newburgh fans saw this tilt which brought in a nice sum for the Newburgh pension fund. Indications are that the second game will be just as closely contested and that the pension fund here will be greatly enhanced. Tickets for the game will be on sale soon.

At Newburgh the musicians of the city turned out en masse to furnish music for the game. It is thought-that Kingston's music makers will do likewise under the direction of Paul Zucca and make the occasion at the Fair Grounds one of the most outstanding ever sponsored here.

After the game the cops, musicians and other guests will enjoy a social and "feed".

We Read of What Chic Paris Is Wearing

New York—Those who enjoy reading about fashions need no introduction to the Grande Semaine, which is the biggest of big weeks, socially speaking, in Paris and the time when fashions are launched and often determined. Here is what our correspondent has to say, in part, of what was worn this season:

"The fashions worn during the Grande Semaine, which climaxes the spring season, the most important socially in Paris, were notable this year for their diversity. In former years there have been one or two schools of dressmaking which stood out as predominant, endorsed by the really smart women and usually independent of the extravagant clothes worn by mannequins from small dressmakers.

"This year, it was not easy to distinguish between mannequin and 'femme du monde,' partly because many of the mannequins were dressed in good taste and wearable clothes and partly because many Parisiennes adopted the frilly and romantic styles hitherto rejected by them. All of which accounts for a bewildering choice of silhouette.

"The great majority of skirts worn by smart women averaged about 12 inches from the ground, but perhaps 5 per cent of those at the races wore inset or ground length skirts. None of these long skirts were seen at luncheon.

Necklines, the story goes on, were built up to the base of the throat and waistlines are at normal. Sleeves were not so easily dismissed, so far as one is able to gather there were endless sleeveless, contradiction as to shape, armhole dimensions and so on. One does gather, however, that short sleeves were chosen more often than full length ones.

Ensembles such as this are the tourist's delight. This one illustrates that stripes can go in opposite directions and still arrive at chic, whether in self or contrasting color. This is true in knitted and woven fabrics especially.

Beware The Lepiota Morgani!

Menace of Deadly Mushroom Type Plant Increased By Showers, U. S. Warns

Washington (AP)—Warning against a dangerous form of mushroom unusually abundant this year because of frequent showers has been issued by the U. S. department of agriculture.

This mushroom, known as Lepiota Morgani, is especially dangerous because it closely resembles the Lepiota Procera, a harmless, edible "parasol" type of mushroom.

Visible Difference Slight

Almost the only difference between the two, say department scientists, is that in the dangerous type, Lepiota Morgani, the gills, or blade-like part under the surface of the cap take on a greenish color when the mushroom reaches maturity. It is very difficult to distinguish between young specimens of the dangerous and harmless types.

The Lepiota Morgani often causes severe illness and sometimes death when it is eaten. It is found over a wide area from Canada and most of the northeastern and middle states west to Iowa and south to Arizona and Texas.

Equal Taste Unreliable

The Lepiota Morgani first has a globe-shaped cap which later expands into more of a parasol shape. The color is at first white but may later assume a tan shade. The surface of the cap is smooth when young but becomes scaly as it matures. The lower part of the stem is slightly enlarged but never bulbous.

The so-called "tests" for distinguishing between poisonous and edible mushrooms are absolutely unreliable, says the department. It is sometimes difficult even for experts to differentiate between dangerous and harmless species when they are immature. Children should be warned against eating or playing with mushrooms, scientists urge.

Presidential Shrines

New Hampshire, the Granite state, is the twelfth state to hold a Presidential shrine. Five Presidents are buried in Ohio, six in Virginia, five in New York, three in Tennessee, two in Massachusetts and one each in Illinois, New Hampshire, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Indiana, New Jersey and Vermont. Of the twenty-nine Presidents whose tombs are national shrines, only one rests in the capital of the United States, Woodrow Wilson rests in the National Cathedral at Washington. Tombs of the other twenty-eight vary from simple graves to edifices costing more than a half million dollars.

There's been a revolution in automatic heating—IT'S CALLED THE G-E OIL FURNACE

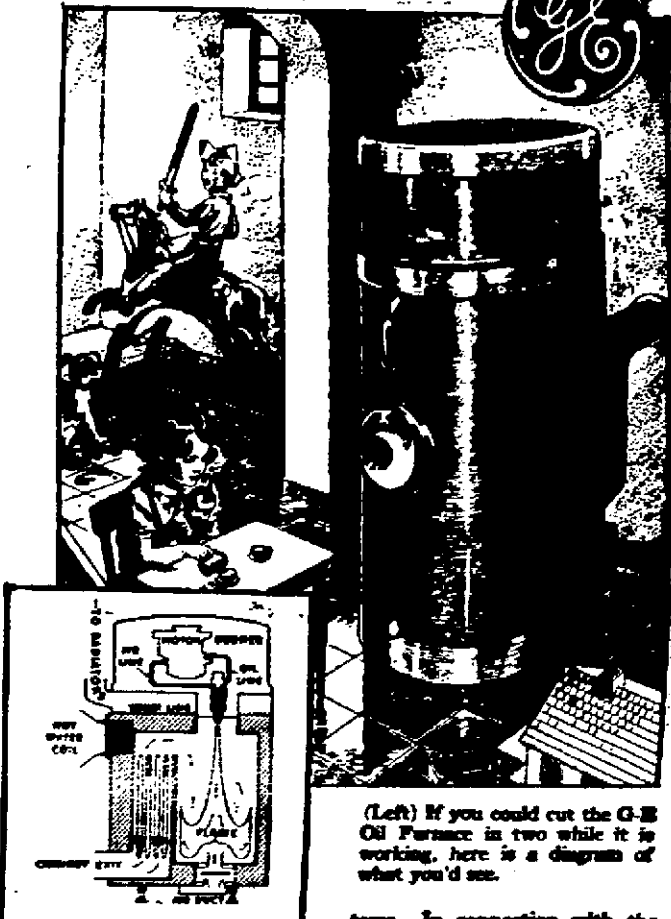

EVERYTHING is being revolutionized today. Old ways of doing things will not do. Not even in automatic heating.

If you want the kind that is completely changing people's ideas of what heating comfort is—you'll have nothing but the G-E Oil Furnace. It is a complete, coordinated heating unit—burner, steel boiler, water heater and controls made by one company—the General Electric Company, and made to work together.

In designing this furnace, G-E engineers were not hampered by having to hook something onto an old boiler. They worked out an entirely different way of atomizing and burning oil. Every drop is broken into 100 million particles by "impact expansion." This oil mist is burned downward from the top of the furnace in a refractory-lined firebox. The flue connection at the bottom of the furnace traps accumulated heat when the burner shuts down, instead of allowing that heat to escape up the flue.

The engineers built in an automatic water heater that supplies domestic hot water all year round at a saving. And then they enclosed the entire furnace in a beautiful steel shell with gray and black Glyptol finish, and chromium trim.

The result is a really new kind of automatic heating. It is a luxury that has made remarkable cuts in the fuel bills of homeowners. For example, one user estimates that he will spend $165 for oil with his G-E this year, compared with his former fuel bill of $225 for heating and about $100 per year for heating water.

(Left) If you could cut the G-E Oil Furnace in two while it is working, here is a diagram of what you'd see.

This furnace is used with steam, vapor or hot-water systems.

In connection with the G-E Air Conditioning System it supplies completely conditioned air in new homes or in those already equipped with ducts.

You will be surprised how easy it is to own this wonderful kind of furnace. One small down payment—and the balance may be spread over several heating seasons.

Oil on the Waters

One of the minor troubles of the world is the nuisance of the oil on the surface of the navigable waters caused by the discharge from oil-burning steamers. It is destructive to the fish and birds alike. The birds' plumage becomes soaked with the oil and it interferes with their progress and in addition to this the oil drifts into the bathing beaches. This problem has been successfully met in the case of a California yacht club whose mooring basin was found to collect this oil. A raft with a paddle wheel driven by a motor was placed at the entrance of the basin and its operation kept the oil from drifting in.

GAS BUGGIES—A Friend in Need.

A Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt's selection of two more professors, George F. Warren of Cornell and James

H. Rogers of Yale, to study means of putting the public debt on a long-time basis at a reduced cost goes to the heart of a problem that has vexed congress for a long while.

And also, it brings to the fore again the system that Roosevelt apparently will follow in the working out of permanent legislative reforms.

This system apparently has three separate and distinct divisions.

The first is the planning division. This group is composed of the professors, or, as they are familiarly known among the capital, the "brain trusters." In the study of the public debt, Professors Rogers and Warren are understood to represent the "brain trust."

It will be their duty to make a comprehensive survey of the whole scheme of federal finances and submit their findings and recommendations to the President.

Once that is done, another group steps in, headed by the President himself in the capacity of a sort of political director-general.

Modus Operandi
The White House summons the congressional leaders in for a conference. The plan worked out by the professors is placed before them. It is here that wars and means of getting the proposed legislation through congress are devised.

The President, presumably not wedded to any detail of the plan submitted by his "brain trusters," listens carefully to the opinions expressed by the congressional leaders and attempts to harmonize the views of the two groups.

Just so long as the main objective is retained, he doesn't care. He'll make concessions here and there, for, after all, it is up to congress to translate the plan into law. He is, so to speak, the balance wheel between the political theorist and the practical politician.

A good illustration of this was to be seen in the industrial recovery act. There was talk that as far back as last Christmas, Roosevelt had before him the industrial recovery plan. It was not, however, until the senate passed the Black 39-hour week bill that he brought it out.

Then To Make It Work
And then comes the third group—those charged with the administration of the law as passed by congress and approved by the President.

This group is made up of an entirely different type of persons. They are the "hard-boiled" men of the administration. Here you see the Lew Douglasses, the Hugh Johnstons, the Morgenthau's—men expected to hew to the line regardless in putting the law into effect. The President keeps his thumb on this group, to be sure. This was evidenced by the fact that he placed his secretary of the interior in charge of the gigantic public works program.

Thus Roosevelt subjects his proposals to three different groups, each entirely different in their make-up and none dependent on the other.

TWO MORE SWIMMERS

PASSED TESTS AT "Y"

Two more swimmers have been graduated from the beginners' class being conducted at the Y. M. C. A. Harriet Morrissey and Janet Schoonmaker, who are members of a special instruction class, passed their test yesterday in the "Y" pool. The test consists of swimming 50 feet most of which is in water over their depth. Both of these swimmers use the over-arm stroke with the flutter kick. This is the stroke taught in the classes at the "Y."

After a beginner has mastered this stroke to the extent of being able to swim 50 feet, instruction is given in the other strokes and diving. A special six lesson course has been arranged for both children and adults.

A charge is made for this course. For those who are members of the "Y" no charge is made.

Synodoceras Cooki—a Beast
It is "something like an antelope and something like a camel." This is the way in which a New York Times correspondent has described a rare specimen of prehistoric animal which has been prepared for exhibition at the Morrill museum at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb.

Synodoceras cooki is the scientific name for this strange creature which is said to have lived some time in the last pre-Glacial Period. It has a double set of horns and a skeleton resembling that of a miniature camel.

The Chicago Fire of 1871
The exact cause of the Chicago fire, which raged from October 9 to 11, 1871, destroying 250 lives and about 18,000 buildings, has never been determined. It is supposed, however, that the original flame was due to spontaneous combustion in Mrs. O'Leary's barn at 137 deKoven street, or to carelessness of someone smoking in the barn. The story that the fire was started by a kerosene lantern being kicked over by a cow which Mrs. O'Leary was milking was fabricated by a newspaper reporter, Michael Ahern, Ahern, who died in 1927, admitted several years before his death that he had invented the story about Mrs. O'Leary and her cow to make his account of the fire more interesting.

India Awaits Gandhi's Next Move In 'Individual Disobedience' Drive

Simla, India (AP).—It is here in the "hill capital" of India government officials are preparing to meet the next phase in Mahatma Gandhi's struggle for his brand of Indian independence.

Hopes of peace in this teeming peninsula and of the final calling off of the civil disobedience movement, fostered by the Indian National Congress, were dimmed recently when Gandhi announced his new plan of campaign.

Individuals Displace Mass

He said that beginning August 1 individual disobedience acts would begin, although he himself would not take part in them without first warning the government of his intention to do so. Hitherto it has been a mass movement.

This pronouncement followed the break down of negotiations for a personal interview between the little nationalist leader and the viceroy, Lord Willingdon. The latter would not receive Gandhi unless the passive resistance campaign were unconditionally suspended.

Hopes for a brighter development had rested largely upon the continued release of political prisoners. Some 1,800 were let go in June.

Leaders Leave Jails

Of 15 members of the nationalist congress working committee appointed in 1931, nine are free, including Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, the brilliant poetess who at one time headed the organization because all her superiors in the party were in jail.

Of the six leaders still held, two are restricted only to living within certain prescribed areas.

Jawaharlal Nehru and Vallabhbhai Patel are the only two members of outstanding influence still in prison.

The former's sentence expires in October but it is anticipated that he will be free before that date.

Nehru recently was visited in Dehra Dun prison by Pandit Malaviya, who is becoming known as the nationalists' "apostle of peace." Because of his known wish to see a truce arranged with the government, Malaviya's trip was looked upon as having special significance. But later developments dashed these hopes also.

MILTON.

Milton, July 24.—About 25 members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church motored to Phoenixia Tuesday on a picnic to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hynes and son, Richard, of Yonkers, and Thomas Cubbard of Great Neck, L. I., were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cubbard.

Miss Loretta Spratt and Michael Conroy visited the Art Exhibit in Cornwall Saturday.

Members of the Methodist Sunday school will hold their annual picnic this year at Bear Mountain Park Thursday, August 3. The trip will Saturday, July 22, about 20 members of the Milton Home Bureau left for a six-day trip to Chicago to visit the Century of Progress.

The foundation for the Michael Conroy home on Sands avenue overlooking the Hudson river is nearly completed. Benjamin Lombardo has been in charge of building the foundation. The construction of the house will begin soon. Sears, Roebuck Company will have charge and will let the contract. Just what contractors will have charge has not been learned. The house is being erected on property owned by Mr. Conroy east of Sands avenue. At a later date a new street is to be put through the tract and other houses will be built.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sloan of Troy visited friends here last Monday.

Mrs. James Judge and children of Long Island have been visiting at the Steenbach home.

The board of education of Milton has asked for bids for the transportation of children to the Highland High School. About 50 children are to be carried. The Diamond D Bus Line holds the contract at present.

Kenneth and Sidney Taber attended a Kappa Zeta dance at Tillson Lake Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Clarke of Milton, Miss Martha Cummings of Yonkers and Gerald Clarke of New York city returned Friday from Lake George, where they have been spending the past week.

Friends in Milton of the late Thomas J. Comerford were saddened when his death was announced. His kind friendliness and willingness to help others gained him many friends who never will forget him.

Carl Hergert, Francis Kaley and Charles Nelson motored to New York city last Thursday.

The date of the Ladies' Aid Society's fair has been changed from Friday, July 28, to Saturday, July 29.

STUDEBAKER raced 28 cars off the track at Indianapolis!

Out of 42 entries only 14 finished . . . and 7 were Studebaker powered! 5 were 85% stock Studebakers which went through entire race without a repair!

THOSE five Studebakers—and two privately entered cars with Studebaker engines—finished in the first twelve. Not a repair was made to any car in the Studebaker team throughout the 500 miles. No other proving ground in the world could give a car the test the Studebakers took in this fastest race in Speedway history. Why not come in today and drive a new Automatic Studebaker so that you can see for yourself why Studebaker engineering is so flawless and Studebaker stamps so superior?

Largest June Sales Since 1930! Studebaker June sales were 147% greater than March—in fact, greater than any June since 1930. And sales already recorded show that July will substantially surpass June. Put your money on a winner. Come in and let us put a price on your present car today.

THE BEST BUY IN SAFETY!

THE BIGGEST BUY IN

MILEAGE!

WHAT makes more people want—and BUY—more Goodyear Tires than any other kind?

They cost no less than other tires—so it must be because they give more at the same price. Look at these facts and judge for yourself.

More SAFETY—by 10 to 77%

Everyone knows that brakes may stop your wheels—but it takes tires that grip to stop your car.

And by actual, impartial test on flooded concrete, cars equipped with Goodyear Tires stop quicker than any other tire can stop them. The next best tire skidded 10% farther—and others skidded up to 77% farther than Goodyears!

Just look at a Goodyear and you'll see why that's so. Goodyears give you traction where you need it—in the CENTER of the tread where it contacts the road.

SAFETY from blowouts in every ply

When any ply in a tire breaks down, it increases the hazard of blowouts. But Goodyear builds every ply of every Goodyear Tire, a safety ply with Supertwist cord—a full ply from head to head. This patented ply material protects you from blowouts because it can stretch and come back under the heat and strain of driving. Any Goodyear dealer can show you how it keeps its life and stretch long after ordinary cords break down.

97% more mileage by actual records

Because Supertwist cord also increases mileage—because Goodyear treads are built tougher every year—the accurate records of the nation's largest bus fleets show that Goodyear average mileage has increased 97% in the past five years. And you get the same features—the same improvements in Goodyear Tires for your car.

The best time to buy is NOW

The price of everything's headed UP. Cotton's up 100%—rubber's up 100%—the price of tires is bound to follow. So check up your tires now and replace risky, worn-out, slippery tires with the best buy in safety—the biggest buy in mileage—Goodyear Tires—preferred by more people than the THREE next largest selling makes combined.

The Stranger's Suggestion
By MARY GRAMER SOMMER

WHY NILLY, the little man who lived in the small room in the back of the house, was talking to the stranger who sat in his armchair. "I'm having a look around," the stranger began.

"Is there anything I can do for you?" Nilly asked.

"Perhaps, perhaps," said the man smiling a smile Nilly did not like at all.

"You have wonderful air around here, nice and fresh and clean," the stranger remarked. Nilly Nilly agreed, but his voice showed that he felt nervous and uneasy.

"There's a large pond near by," continued the stranger.

"That belongs to the Ducks," said Nilly Nilly.

"Oh, well, the Ducks will make good duck dinners and the pond can be turned into an excellent swimming pool. Of course, I hate to ask you to leave this little settlement, but I hope you will not mind."

"Not mind! Leave Puddle Muddle! Whatever are you talking about?" cried Nilly Nilly.

"Be calm, my little man," said the stranger. "I've been asking some questions in the villages around here and they tell me that this land once belonged to an old man who has since gone away, leaving no trace of anything to tell where he's gone."

"It will make a delightful little place for bungalows and summer cottages. I have splendid plans."

"Puddle Muddle belongs to me," Nilly Nilly shouted.

Aerator Park Crowded.
Shokan, July 25.—The aerator park last Sunday was crowded with visitors, trying to keep cool on the grass beneath the evergreen trees. Scores of bathers visited the weir pool below the main dam and still others enjoyed a swim in the pool of the old spillway, the water of which is said to be much colder than that at the weir in the Esopus Creek gorge. The pools are becoming popular with Kingston folks, a number of whom were noted among the bathers on Sunday.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Chicago, July 25.—Men who wish to follow the dictates of correct fashion at evening social functions from now henceforth should wear full dress with "swallow tail" coat, a "stove-pipe" hat, and a cane.

So said delegates attending the annual summer get-together of the International Association of Clothing Designers.

He Catches Them

Shawano, Wis.—George R. Schuster, who came up from Iowa for a summer's fishing, cast his plug into Shawano Lake, felt a strike and reeled in two black bass. One weighed four pounds, the other three and three-quarters. They were caught on hooks at opposite ends of the bait. His wife was with him and vouches for the story.

Here's A Family!

Bellingham, Wash.—The 18 children of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Brown, attended a family reunion dinner. The seven married children brought their wives and children along and "Mother" Brown had to fill plates for 36.

They Won't Shoot Her

The prisoner's name is Donnelgo D. F. R. W. S. Killabappanna.

Chains.

Ottawa, Ill.—Charged with chaining his eight-year-old son and 14-year-old daughter in a barn as a means of punishment, Charles Slapwinski, local dairyman, was in jail today.

The boy, Frederick, told Deputy Sheriff Stanley Murray, who found him, that he had been bound with heavy iron chains 48 hours and that his only food had been what other children smuggled to him. Authorities said the girl, Josephine, had been chained up a day and a night.

Some Luck, All Right.

South Bend, Ind.—Mrs. Marie Buckowski, a dancing instructor, was defrauded, she said, in an alleged stock deal.

En route to see an attorney about it, she missed her footing in trying to board a car, lost four teeth and suffered other injuries.

Then she injured her back in a fall on her dance floor.

A Good Nose.

Joilet, Ill.—Assistant Warden Walter Nierathemer of Stateville Penitentiary solved the case of the missing cherries, stolen from a truck within the prison walls.

The aroma of three gallons of cherry mash, caught by his nose, solved the mystery.

LIGHT RAINS BRING RELIEF IN SOME SECTIONS

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Light rains brought scattered relief today to sections of New York State, parched by an all-summer drought.

Temperatures, which had been in the high 90's for two days, fell back to more comfortable zones with the change in weather.

Buffalo reported "much benefit," but more rain needed to save fruit and potato crops and pastures.

Rochester had no rain, and rain was too light at Syracuse to do much good. At Albany and in the mountains light showers fell all morning.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 25 (AP)—Stocks pressed forward today as a fast pace, apparently on a growing into the anticipated season all of the latent rallying vigor that ordinarily would be spread over the customary five hours.

The 2000 opening found prices of many of the leaders up 1 to 4 or more points with the so-called "wet" stocks again out in the lead. Various specialties also drew renewed followings. At the end of the first hour of the day, the market was characterized by a rather narrow range. Grades at Chicago were fairly steady, with wheat, corn, oats and soybeans up 2 to 3 cents a bushel. Barley rose up 2 to 3 cents a bushel in the restricted trading. Winnipeg wheat was up more than 4 cents. The dollar was somewhat lower in foreign exchange markets. Cotton moved indifferently and silver features were a bit reactionary. Bonds were steady to firm.

Alcohol shares, up 1 to around 31 points. Industrial Alcohol, American Commercial Alcohol, Owens-Illinois, Allied Chemical and Standard Brands, Allied Chemical came back for a rally of more than 2 and Case, reactionaries yesterday, recovered about 3. Industrial Rayon moved up more than 4, and advances of 1 or more were registered by Celanese, International Silver, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Public Service of New Jersey, Proctor & Gamble and U. S. Rubber. U. S. Smelting dropped a point or more.

While most of the pressing margin situations were believed to have been cleared up, there was said to be still some liquidation in evidence. At the same time it was reported that operators for the "short" side were expanding their commitments somewhat more than in the past several days.

General Balbo Leads His Scaplane Armada On Trip Back to Italy

New York, July 25 (AP)—General Italo Balbo led his 24 plane armada of the air on toward Italy today, leaving the seaplane base of Floyd Bennett Field, for Shediac, N. B., 639 miles away.

Because it had been General Balbo's custom to lead the way into the air on every take-off of the long flight from Italy to Chicago and New York, it was supposed this morning that he was in the first plane to rise from the waters of Jamaica Bay, and was so reported.

It was later determined, however, that the order of takeoff had been almost completely reversed and that General Balbo was in the 20th plane to leave the water.

It was said the reversal of takeoff order was decided on because of the position of the planes in the inlet.

Clear Weather in Shediac.

Shediac, N. B., July 25 (AP)—Clear weather with fair visibility prevailed here today as Shediac awaited the arrival of Italy's air armada coming up from New York. As soon as word was received that the fliers had taken off hundreds of persons, many of whom had seen the big seaplanes when they stopped here en route to Chicago, started for Shediac from other New Brunswick points.

The only official event on today's schedule was the renaming of Pleasant street, the first street touched by General Italo Balbo when he arrived from Cartwright, Labrador, July 13. In the future the street will be Balbo avenue.

DeWitt Cole Gored To Death By Bull

DeWitt Cole, 68 years of age of Marlborough, died at his home at 5:30 Monday afternoon, after he had been severely injured when attacked by a bull in his own barn about 11:30 Monday morning. Mr. Cole was alone when the accident occurred and never regained consciousness to tell the facts of the mishap.

As nearly as can be ascertained, he entered the barn alone where the bull was chained on a short chain, and apparently he approached the beast which in turn charged at him. When Cole was discovered he was unconscious and it was found that one of the bull's horns had pierced his leg. On further examination it was found he had a ruptured stomach and was badly cut about the head. The rupture of the stomach was said to have caused his death.

Mr. Cole had worked on the farm all his life and was born in the house in which he died. Up to the time of the accident he was enjoying good health.

He is survived by his wife, Minnie Bush Cole; one son, Clifford Cole of Marlborough; one daughter, Mrs. Phoebe Randers and one grandson of Marlborough. Funeral services private at his home on Thursday afternoon. Interment will be in Marlborough Cemetery.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

It seems pretty well understood that the eastern frontiers that at least half down of our leading and educational institutions will be the opportunity to hand over in a new intercollegiate athletic conference or association.

Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Dartmouth, as a nucleus, already are interlocking schedule arrangements which will be in full effect by 1934.

Cornell and Pennsylvania may complete the group for the time being, although it is also likely Columbia and Brown will join the combination later on, if not as charter members.

Old barriers or prejudices against a new football formation have almost been well broken down by the organization of leagues in basketball, baseball and later, hockey, among the colleges afore-mentioned. There have been a number of informal talks among the athletic leaders, all of whom now look with a favorable eye on a closer banding-together on the gridiron.

It has been forty years since there was any football association of eastern colleges. The last one broke up with some ill-feeling in its wake and the big colleges haven't made any real attempt to get together again for common aims and purposes, except to govern the appointment of officials.

They have been lone wolves when it came to schedule-making, apart from the scattered and long-standing rivalries that continued to keep Yale and Harvard, Yale and Princeton, Cornell and Pennsylvania, Columbia and Syracuse, Lafayette-Lehigh and others together.

More Powder Coming Up

West Point lost a number of familiar athletic figures with the departure of this year's graduating class but the attractions of a military career still seem powerful for a number of our best college athletes.

Two of our ablest young athletes are slated to do big things at the stone-gravel citadel up the Hudson river are Harrison Stafford, who has done a lot of blocking, ball-running, kicking and passing for the University of Texas over the past three gridiron campaigns, and 270-pound Jack Torrance, outstanding lineman of the Louisiana State university team for several seasons as well as the current national shotputting champion.

Stafford's appointment to the military academy is already effective, this year, so that he may fit neatly into the 1934 army backfield, but Torrance is not slated to go to West Point for another season, according to his friends.

Can He Punch?

Torrance heaved the 16-pound shot a distance of 52 feet, 10 inches in the National Collegiate A. A. championships, surpassing the listed world record, and then won the Na-

TO INVESTIGATE HOW CUP SQUAD WAS TRAINED
New York, July 23 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines' now-famous fainting spell on the Red Clay Courts of Autuelli may be the starting point for an intensive investigation into this country's Davis Cup tennis training methods.

While newspaper observers, here and abroad, continued their attacks on the methods of Vernon S. Prentice, captain, and charged that America's two singles aces, Vines and Wilmer Allison, were over-trained and worked up to an excessive nervous pitch for the inter-zone finals against England, there were indications that a full explanation for the team's collapse would be demanded at the next annual meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Legion Juniors Play Sangerties

The American Legion Junior baseball squad will play a practice game against a pick-up Sangerties team today, in an effort to keep in trim for the other state elimination game Thursday at Clinton, where a win will put Kingston in the last brackets of the race for the pennant.

Last Saturday at Schenectady, Kingston trimmed the much heralded Scotia also, 6-2 and displayed a brand of baseball that was unobtainable, according to reports of locals who witnessed the contest. If the boys keep up their present brilliant pace it seems quite evident that they will go to the final.

If the boys win Thursday at Clinton they will trip to Long Island where the champions of the southern district of New York will be waiting for them.

Celach, who pitched such an outstanding game against Scotia will do the mound duty against Clinton. The other members of the pitching staff will be assigned to work against the Sangerties contingent.

Here are the three remaining active members of Franco's famous "Four Musketeers," who have made the Davis Cup a closed corporation for the last six years. Henri Cochet (upper left), Jacques Brugnon (below) and Jean Borotra, shown in a typical action shot, make what may prove to be their last stand in the Challenge Round starting July 28 at Paris.

They Know Their "Ringers"

Above are three of the world's outstanding backhand pitchers, all of whom will compete in the men's and women's championships at Chicago July 27-31. Miss Nussmeier (left), of Cleveland, has held the title since 1929. Mrs. J. F. Francisco of Columbia, Ohio, is present women's champion, while Frank Jackson (lower right), of Kellerton, Ia., has captured 13 world's championships in his time.

Tagging Major League Bases

Through the once impraguable pitching arm of the Philadelphia Athletics' twin mound ace, Bob Grove and George Barnshaw, the Washington Senators have blasted their way once more to the top of the American League standing.

Taking advantage of the New York Yankees' idleness, the Senators battered the A's into defeat in both games of a double header yesterday, 5-2 and 10-6 and moved into first place by a half game margin. The third-place Athletics, at the same time, fell to a point 11 games behind the Yankees, thus emphasizing again the two-club character of the pennant race.

Grove, who had won six games in a row, was the victim of bunched hits in the second and fourth innings. The Senators scored three runs in the second on four safeties and two in the fourth, coupling three hits with an error. Grove's defeat was his fifth against 15 victories. Bob Burke, who has started only three games for Washington all year and won them all, allowed only two hits in the five innings he worked, one a home run by Mickey Cochrane, but was relieved by Jack Russell after Roger Cramer singled and Cochrane walked with none out in the sixth. Russell halted that threat and allowed only two hits the rest of the way, one being Bob Johnson's tenth homer.

The Senators drubbed Barnshaw for 11 hits and eight runs in seven innings in the second game which wouldn't even have been except for a five-run rally, climaxed by Jimmie Fox's 25th homer in the ninth. Alvin Crowder pitched his 14th victory but lost control in the sixth and was replaced by Bill McAfee, young relief ace. McAfee retired the side then without a score but his later exertions at the plate where he produced a triple and a home run took their toll in the ninth and Russell again had to be summoned after the A's had scored five times.

This double-header marked the only competition in either league but the National circuit reached the headlines when the St. Louis Cardinals announced the appointment of Frank Frisch to succeed Gabby Street as Cardinal manager.

Clows Battle With Repealers Tonight

Morgan's Repealers, champions of the first half of the City League and runners-up to the Lumbermen in the second half, are slated to meet Clow's Dairyman at the Athletic Field this evening. The Repealers are but a half game behind the Lumbermen, but need this game to stay in the race. The Dairyman beat the Repealers in their last game, being one of two teams to accomplish that feat this season. Ted Fraleigh, mainstay of the Repealers' pitching staff, will be on the mound with Joe Hoffman behind the bat. Nick Huber will hurl for the Dairyman; John Tomasek will do the relieving.

Monday night's game scheduled for Schryvers and Herzogs was rained out.

Successful Water Show at Van's Pool

Van's pool was the scene of a very interesting and entertaining water show Sunday afternoon. The show was under the direction of Grant Decker of Woodstock, but some very interesting exhibitions of fancy swimming and diving. The outstanding feature of the program was the remarkable performance of Miss Gertrude Hanley, A. R. C. L. S. D., who, with her sister, Elizabeth, gave a superb exhibition of life saving. The approaches and breaking of the different holds of a drowning person were splendidly enacted. Miss Gertrude and sister also gave an exhibition of perfectly timed tandem swimming, both front and back stroke. Miss Hanley again showed a superb form in the fancy diving exhibitions. Her swim, jackknives back, and other difficult dives were perfectly timed and executed. Several young men of Kingston also showed a considerable amount of class and form in the men's part of the diving.

In the junior diving, Joe Heldcamp, Jr., the 11 year old youngster who has been seen in a number of swimming and diving contests recently, and who has been training under the supervision of Jack Allen, intercollegiate champion, gave a very credible exhibition. Joe, although only a youngster, will soon be in line for a "semi-pro" test at one of the New York pools.

Little Paul Welch, 11 year old Woodstock boy, gave a beautiful exhibition of a combined back stroke and full water turn. Paul will be heard more of later in the different water sports contests.

The back stroke team swim comprised of Joan Hanley, 11 years old, Marjorie Whiteley, 12 years old, and Genevieve Whiteley, 9 years old, was very nicely done. Joan Hanley and Marjorie Whiteley also gave an exhibition of the tandem swim.

The part of the program which attracted some attention and gave no little amusement was the diving and swimming of little Sidney Mower. Sid is only six years old, but he surely is quite at home on the diving board and in the water.

The orchestra, "Al Gentile and his Melodians," certainly are real exponents of the modern music, and under the leadership of Al himself the orchestra worked in perfect time and tempo with each number of the swimming team, and gave a very pleasing musical program throughout the afternoon.

Both Frank Van Valkenberg, owner of the pool, and Grant Decker, the water sports director, hope that the crowd this coming Sunday will be even larger and that the competition will be keener than that of the past Sunday afternoon.

Watervliet Grogans Old Visitors Here

Kingston won't be strange to the Watervliet Grogans, when they play the All Stars here Sunday, but just an old rendezvous of baseball, for years ago when the old Colonial team was at its peak Watervliet was one of the local's best opponents for giving the fans their money's worth in baseball.

Great rivalry has existed between Kingston and Watervliet but with the extermination of the baseball spirit here years ago and the dissolving of the Colonial ranks, a great deal of the old feeling that once was prevalent has now been forgotten.

However, the All Stars expect to re-establish the dim memories of the past into vivid activities of the present with their engagement with Watervliet, Sunday. The visitors have kept up their first rate baseball organization throughout the past years and at this rate the locals can expect to meet one of the best squads booked for their opponents on the diamond this summer.

Central Hudson Plays Hasbrouck All Stars

Tonight at Hasbrouck Park the Central Hudson Gas & Electric squad will meet the Hasbrouck Park All Stars. The Central Hudson team expects a good battle for the winning honors, for the Hasbrouck nine, although comparatively newly organized, has won from teams of good standing.

However, Benny Short, manager of the Gas & Electric team, expects his men to come through if they continue to play the brand of baseball that was exhibited against Tannersville, which game the locals won 12-7. Benny's boys got 15 hits and played good baseball in the pinches.
